I was privileged this summer to attend three family history conferences in Los Angeles, Seattle and Ottawa.. They were evidenc of a good increase in family history interest. The Seattle conference of the Federation of Genealogical Societies was attended by more than 1800 registrants. It represents more than 1000 societies, including our own, and more than 150,000 family historians. It was massive compared to attendance at the LA and Ottawa conferences of 125 and 140 people respectively.

All the conferences were very worthwhile with good speakers, variety in choice of lectures, and a positive and sharing attitude on the part of the many fine people I met.

This interest will be greatly enhanced among a larger population next year with the televising of the new 10-part Ancestors series for National PBS (see my page 14 report). I have written to KBYU-TV in Provo UT to congratulate them on this project and to extend our Society's full support of it. Similar letters have being sent to TVO and WPNE in Watertown encouraging their support and broadcast of the series. You may wish to write to TVO and WPNE.

I hope you like the new additions in this issue, e.g., a Tafel and a Queries page.

Have a good ancestral hunting season.

1851 County Sligo Letter

This letter (see below) is an excellent example of one most researchers hope to find. It is amply filled with names, relationships and news, and should add life and colour to the bare names of lineage charts. We should all get from it an insight into the ways and times of our own ancestors in the years right after The Great Famine.

Your Editor is grateful to BIFHSGO's vice-president of programs and conferences, Jim Heal, for sending it in for publication.

He got his copy from his cousin, the late Mrs. Gladys Golden nee Livesey of Harrow ON. She got the original from a descendant of Jasper Golden of Lot 7, Con 4, Gosfield Township, Essex County, near Kingsville, ON.

Jim reports that the relationship of the letter writer, Richard Golden and Gladys' husband, John James Golden, is unknown to him. Golden's grandfather James, son of William & Bridgette Golden, was born in Tobercurry (Tubbercurry), Co Sligo in 1867, about 16 years after the letter was written. The letter reads:

Rathscanlon, May 19th, 1851

My dear brother and sisters

That cheering and encouraging letter which we were looking for arrived on the 6th of May. I need not be describing the comfort it brought, particularly to my poor mother.

She is in a middling state of health at present, thanks to Almighty God for that and all other Mercies to us unworthy creatures. & O what a privilege to hear from our most beloved friends who are always in our minds almost taking the place of Him who requires our first and best thoughts. But God Almighty grant of His goodness for Christ's sake, for any anxiety or suffering we not fall from Him with whom we have to do (sic).

We were also happy to hear how well my Aunt Sarah and cousins are. May God bless them for their kindness to you. You would be comfortless dear Jasper, only for them. We hope the Lord will prolong our lives another twelve-month to see ye, also to thank our beloved Aunt and cousins for all their acts of kindness. You have still to admire the goodness of God in supporting us on the little means we have, as you and I often did.

Our stock is as good as when ye went.

We sold the mare and foal at November and bought £5.7.6 worth of a hon [?]. I have the most of that money earned in plowing Mr.H., the same kind man still. He got the Dean's plowing for me which came to £1.10

We joined Mrs. Beatty of Rue. We bought an iron plow for £2.1.6, a very nice but a light one. Let us know if you will encourage us to bring it with us, if so, we would keep it.

We have only our potatoes set. We have some over. We have a very late spring but this month is coming on favorably. We have about an acre and a half planted and intend to plant 3 more of turnips. We have half an acre of wheat sown. It did not make much progress yet. Have two acres of oats. It appears well. We had not enough grass of our own. We bought Roger Golden's grass for £4.0.0. You know there is a good piece of meadow on it which will draw half of that money.

Now I must let you know about the friends. Mr. Hamilton and lady and baby are all well and very happy to hear from ye. My Uncle Dick and his family are well. John is still unmarried. Mrs. Eeraus house-keeps for him. Aunt Mary Henderson is well. She is in Sligo yet and all the family. Eccles was home on a visit from the Army. They are gate-keepers of the old Abbey.

Mrs. Powell and family are much the same way in health, but not the same respect. Elicia got married to Robt. Irwin about a half year ago and lives in the big house with Robert. Mr. Frazer and family are well. Mrs. Golden is well.

Mrs. Frizzel is well but Miss Frizzel gave up teaching on account of bad health. She is not very bad now. Miss Black teaches in her place. I wrote you about the death of Mr. Potter. You never spoke about him so I doubt if you got that paper. I also sent two papers written with ink. I think ye ought to have them before ye wrote.

Benson is in Tubbercurry dealing as before. The reason of his return, I think no person knows. Ellen stopped in New York and the rest of them came back. All in this town. John Mullarkey came home too and is in this town. He left the two eldest sons in America. Tommy Connolly is home.

Margaret Golden is married to James Carroll. Both go to church. They are living in Matthew Gore's house.

Our cousins the Bretts are well in America. George, their brother went at Christmas. He brought a wife with him by the name of Emily Cuff. I think you know her (big George's sister). George got hurt on the vessel and he is in hospital in America.

The girls sent their mother home £5.0.0. They are well at home. The Morrison's are all gone to America. Lougheed's except Jane that married Hugh Lougheed. Dick McGee's family are all gone to America.

Mrs. Ferguson's widower Clifford is married to Miss O'Connor, James Golden's sister-in-law. Miss Ferguson, Robert Black's sweetheart, is also married to a young man near Ballymoli.

Bessie West has gone to America. She went with the Morrison's. Miss Wallis is gone also. Pat Golden is about to go to America.

There came no letter to Cloonacurrow from America, but what Willis sent. We hear Rich. Phibbs got one lately. The old Uncle is well, at least he was well a month ago. I was down then. John Black, wife and child are well. Katherine Ferguson's husband and daughter are well and doing well. Henry Connor is well and all the family.

Mrs. Rogers was teaching school in Chafpool and the priest opposed it and Mrs. Armstrong gave it up. Her son is well. John Morrison, Bob's son died last Christmas. I was very sorry for him.

Old John Powell is dead. He left his carriage to Pat Coan. Old Jack Young in Ballisadare is married. Wm. Golden, Mrs. Golden's brother in Ballisadare came in to Tubbercurry and stopped half a year and then to Sligo to the poorhouse and two of his children are dead since he went.

Jane Walker of Carrane is gone to America. Wm. West (George's son) sent home £6.0.0. to his father. His sister Jane went to America. Wm. West (Tom's son) is still in the Police. I sent you a paper that he sent me.

The toothache pays me a visit betimes. My mother hopes to see ye in America, God willing. My father does be often thinking and planning how he will leave a row of trees behind the house. Then he says from all the ground William has, if we have to go back farther in the bush God help us.

I hope Jasper will choose a good farm. It is very particular you ought to be in choosing a spot where we expect to live on earth. Anthony and John will assist you in making a choice.

We are very happy Sarah is in a religious family, and that she is content, and I hope she will see my father's house surrounded by a number of hens.

Let us know as soon as possible how Maria is situated and if content. It is lawful to write now in a paper if a person pay one penny for stamping it anywhere through the British Settlements. We expect that you will not forget to send us papers at least every fortnight or sooner. I wonder at Cousin Sarah's patience in waiting to get married till we go over. I wonder how I forgot to mention and speak of John and family in our last letter but as I did I hope he will excuse me for I often prove awkward in many things.

I hope my son Anthony is doing well and that William would bring him up in the fear of the Lord. I promised since for a son of Louis, a namesake of my own. I do not intend to promise for any other child in this country.

Our Sunday School is doing well. Henry Connor still attends it. We do have good congregations. We had on the 5th of May 105 people at Church. Dean Hare went to Waterford. He is replaced by a Lord Montmorrey. I fear an exchange for the worse.

Mr. O'Brien will get an atlas for you. Do not forget to remember us to William and his kind wife, John and family and also Thomas Pettypiece. If the bush is a lonely place he must be very lonely.

It is my mother's wish she was there, then her wish would be fulfilled, but she says she will venture, at any rate, this year will be the longest passed for many years. Winny would wish when you would be writing to Aunt Fanny to inquire about his brother James' family.

Do not forget to let us know in your next what requisites will be necessary to bring with us and if farming implements are cheap and easy to get.

My mother is still in doubt about my Aunt Fanny and would like if you would be good enough to remove her doubts. Sarah wished to know if my mother fretted much. Not much now, it was mingled with joy ever since she heard of ye being at my Aunt's. She was wonderfully eased. Jasper's medicine proved good. She uses it still. I cannot say whether any of the Phibbs will go out or not. I saw none of them this long time.

My mother thinks John lost all his good nature since he went to America. She says he was not so before he went. She hopes she will have nothing to answer of the promise she made for him. So I must conclude. We send out love to you dear Jasper, Maria & Sarah and Aunt and Cousins. May the Lord bless ye.

Richard Golden

P.S. John is well. He sends his love to you and M. & S.

Wm. Reid gone to America this month.

Canuck Pensioners of U.S. Civil & 1812 Wars

by Brian O'Regan

Some 700 Canadians were Pensioners on the Roll as of 1 January 1883. The Roll, called for by U.S. Senate resolution, and published in 1883, provides the certificate numbers (key to obtaining additional information), name of each person receiving a pension, the reason for it, the post office address in different countries, the monthly pension rate, and the date of the original allowance. Most pensions were the result of wounds or other effects arising from service in the U.S. Civil War.

Some of the pension recipients were widows of veterans (40) and surviving veterans (14) of the War of '1812 - still alive 70 years later when the Roll was compiled. There were 25 widows and eight survivors in Ontario, 12 widows and five survivors in Quebec, and, three widows and one survivor in New Brunswick.

The National Archives in Washington is custodian of the service and pension records. The table lists particulars of the pensioners as published. There are obvious spelling errors of some names and places. The only changes made were to arrange the surnames in alphabetical order and to include provincial abbreviations. They were grouped in the original roll. The series will continue in future issues of Anglo-Celtic Roots.

My Ahnentafel 1340-1995

Frank Miller

This ahnantafel is only the tip of the iceberg. My software program only does 10 generations, but my maternal line of descent covers 20 generations to Thomas Heigham who was born at least 655 years ago. Because of the program limitations, and for ease of reading, generations 11 to 20 are treated as an ahnantafel of Captain Thomas Bradbury, my ancestor number 2010.

In a person's 20th generation the ancestor number would begin with 1,048,596 and end with number 2,097,191. This is because of the doubling factor, i.e. two parents, four grandparents, eight great grandparents and so on.

My motivation for substantial research into ancestry is easily traced to the intriguing stories told to me by my maternal grandmother Grace Nelson Patrick, particularly the story of the elopement of her mother, Victoria Richardson Nelson. My interest was spurred when she left me a treasured book: the 1876 family history. It led me into research at the New England Historic GS in Boston and membership in that body.

Work on my Protestant Irish ancestors and my Irish Palatine line was inspired by notes and diaries left, respectively, by my maternal grandfather and my father, each of whom made two visits to Ireland during the early years of this century. My daughter Lyn and I followed in their footsteps in a 1984 visit to Ireland, carrying their diaries with us. Some of the stories have been shared with my cousins by means of an occasional Patrick-Miller Newsletter. I hope to share them with readers of Anglo-Celtic Roots in forthcoming issues using my ahnantafel as a beginning.

PBS-TV Ancestors: Ancestors, a family history and genealogy series for PBS began filming in September. It is on the National PBS schedule in the United States for 1996.

Each of the 10 episodes will focus on successful strategies and tips for aspiring family historians. The series has the support of the Federation of Genealogical Societies and of our Society.

You can join Ancestors Online on the World Wide Web at:

<http://kbyuwww.byu.edu/ancestor.htm>

Our president refers to the Ancestors series on p. 1, and our Winter issue will have more information in an article on the series.

Salt Lake Search Aids: The Frank Smith Gray Books, that list material in the Salt Lake records, and were on the British Floor, have been filmed on microfiche. The books, compiled by Smith and his people, are large binders, one for each county in the British Isles and Ireland, organized by County, Subject, Time Period, etc. Check the FHL Catalog. BIFHS of LA Newsletter Apr/May 1995

Civil War Soldiers Photos: The US Army Military History Institute has a valuable resource for Civil War research. They have a huge database of photos of US Civil War soldiers, indexed by name. They can do an online (while you are on the phone) search for you, and will send you a Xerox copy of the photo (and information about ordering a print) if they locate one. This file contains 80,000 photos. When you request a search for photos you will need to give the State, Regiment and Company, along with the name. Write: Michael J Winey, Curator, Dept of the Army, at the Institute, Carlisle Barracks, Carlisle PA 17013-5008, phone (717) 245-3434. Washington State GS Newsletter, Sept/Oct 1995.

Our First Year

The Council Room of the Ottawa City Hall was a fine location for the Society's first annual general meeting of members on 10 September 1995. It is a well-lit and nicely furnished chamber equipped with modern sound equipment.

Where the Chief Magistrate of the City usually presides over municipal business, President Brian O'Regan sat to preside over the business affairs of the AGM. The Board of Directors sat around the table. Flanking the President and Directors were oil paintings of Queens Elizabeth and Victoria.

The size of the Council and Board are equal. This meant each Board Member had a microphone. A standing floor microphone served the 34 Society members who had remained to attend the meeting after the end of the Fall Conference.

The President reported that it was just one year ago when the nine founders met and agreed to establish the Society. Over the next three months they set out basic goals and objectives, produced promotional material, and got federal incorporation.

It was a fully fledged Society with 22 members when 162 people turned out for the first members monthly meeting on a below-freezing Saturday morning in mid-January. Before it ended, 71 new members had signed on.

The President noted the Board had acted on a novel concept recommended by the Society's nominations committee, Fern Small and Ken Collins. It was to appoint Associates (see inside front cover) to work with and understudy directors, gaining experience in operating a Society preparatory to selection as future directors. They have no voting authority, but are invited to attend Board meetings, maintain a watching brief, undertake tasks and work in close cooperation with the President and the eight Directors.

Jim Heal, chairman of programs and conferences, commented briefly on the programs of six meetings held in the first half of the year. The main speakers and topics were: Wayne Walker, Probing the Mountain of Names; Norman Crowder, British Isles Sources in the National Archives of Canada; George Bushell, Ireland's 1851 Census; John Sayers, 1891 Census of Eng- land, Scotland and Wales; David Jeanes, 1881 Census Surname Index of England Scotland and Wales; and, Bernice Severson, Index to the 1871 Census Index of Ontario

Bob Campbell reported membership at 249 persons, including 33 new members attracted by the Fall Conference. He keeps a data binder of members for researchers at the Family History Centre

Ken Collins reported the current indexing project is the registers of St. Patrick's Basilica in Ottawa from 1855 to 1916. There are in excess of 20,000 entries.

Jack Moody reported on mounting Society mobile displays at various meetings in the province. He is planning a beginners workshop and an educational radio-TV series, both for 1996.

Gerry Neville drew attention to the publishing of three issues of Anglo-Celtic Roots, and a 64-page booklet on The Lanark Society Settlers. An annual, journal is to be published later this year.

Alan Rayburn noted he handled regional media publicity and promotion as well as Board meetings minutes; and is the contact point for secretaries of six of the seven organizations in which the Society holds membership. Last January he began an archives of original Society documents, and is custodian of published material received from exchanges and membership in other societies.

Treasurer Gary Bagley presented an audited statement of income and expenses for the year ending June 30. The balance was $472.87. The Society's application to Revenue Canada for charitable status, he reported, was still pending (Note: approval was obtained in late September subject to some changes in the Society's Constitution).

A By-law amendment for Life Membership was unanimously approved for 1996. It must be sanctioned by the Minister of Consumer and Corporate Affairs, and the Board must establish the payment of fees before it is acted upon. It may be the end of the First Quarter next year before this action is taken and completed.

The founding directors were nominated and agreed to serve another year. After a call for other nominations for President and a call for other nominations for Directors, each being called three times, there were no further nominations. The Members of the Board of Directors for 1995-1996 are listed on the inside front page.

There being no further business, the 90 minute AGM was adjourned at 4:00 pm Sunday, 10 September

Jim Heal later reported that the successful Fall Conference attracted 101 registrants, 25 speakers and demonstrators, and nine marketplace vendors. About three quarters of the registrants who completed a questionnaire classified the three-day event as Very Good or Excellent.

FHC Co-ordinator

All record repositories have some sort of guide to help their patrons use the material they hold. This guide may take the form of a card index or it is more likely to be some sort of a calendar or finding list. These finding aids are the lists and indexes prepared by archivists that describe the contents of an archive or a manuscript collection right down to box, folder or even individual item level. Access to these lists can give you details of what actual records are held.

The National Inventory of Documentary Sources in the United Kingdom and Ireland (NIDS-UK&I) is an important reference work in which the unpublished finding aids of County Records Offices, University Libraries, Public Libraries, National Specialist and Private Repositories are reproduced on microfiche accompanied by a names and subject index. NIDS-UK&I is marketed by Chadwick-Healey, a micropublishing organization located in Cambridge, England with an American outlet in Alexandria, VA.

Check the Family History Library Catalog or News of the Family History Library at the Family History Centre to determine the accessibility of finding aids of interest. The Family History Library has been, where possible, microfilming these calendars and finding lists. An update Catalog on both CD-ROM and microfiche is now at the FHC. Additionally, the FHC has the newest release of Ontario vital records: indexes for births 1898; marriages 1913; and deaths 1928; and BMD certificates.

Microforms on Long Term-Loan

The microforms on long-term loan at the FHC are listed below. The listing shows the name of the researcher, country and county, subject, order number, microform number, and its return date. Years 1841, 1851, 1871 and 1881 indicate census records. Many more records are received weekly on short-term three-week loans. Check the FHC film register for new entries.

Abbreviations: BT = Bishop's Transcripts; CR = Church Register; OPR = Old Parochial Registers; PR = Parish Register. Counties are, in most cases, listed without the shire suffix.

Names from Wales in Canada

British Isles Place Names in Canada

Alan Rayburn

Although there have been at least three small waves of Welsh migration to Canada since the late 1700s, Welsh immigrants rarely occupied specific areas of Canada to the point that they dominated the selection of place names anywhere in the country. But there is an interesting selection of Welsh place names across the land.

In 1835 David Owen named the principal centre of New Brunswick's Campobello Island Welshpool, after a town in north central Wales. However, the post office there was called Campo Bello in 1845. When it was changed in 1928, it was incorrectly spelled Welchpool. It took 15 years to get it changed to Welshpool.

Chepstow, on the east side of Souris PEI, was named as early as 1845 by a settler from Chepstow in Monmouthshire. Cymbria, 20 km northwest of Charlottetown, was named in 1895 after the lodge of William Hodges, who came from Wales in 1822 to manage the estate of John Hodges Winsloe. Cymbria is a poetic name for Wales.

Ontario has a large number of interesting Welsh names. Beginning with my own street name, Solva Drive, and two adjacent streets, Newgale Road and Roche Place. All three were named in 1960 by a developer for Solva, Newgale and Roch in southwestern Wales, near St David's, an area where Canadian airmen were based during the Second World War.

Madoc Township in Hastings County was named in 1820, after Prince Madoc ad Owainn Gwynedd, who reputedly sailed from Wales to the Gulf of Mexico in 1170, and thus discovered America long before Columbus. The adjacent Tudor Township was named two years later the House of Tudor, which was founded by Henry VII, who was born in 1456 at Pembroke Castle in Wales. Pembroke Township on the Ottawa River, was named in 1835 after George Augustus Herbert, 11th Earl of Pembroke (1759-1827), who took an active part in promoting emigration to Canada. The city of Pembroke was named in 1846, after being called Miramichi, Campbelltown, Moffatt, and Sydenham.

Anglesea Township in Lennox and Addington County, north of Kaladar, was named in 1872 after Henry William Paget, Earl of Uxbridge and Marquis of Anglesea (1758-1854). Second in command to Wellington at Waterloo, he took his title from the Isle of Anglesey off Wales north-west coast, which means island of the English. Denbigh Township, in the back woods of Lennox and Addington County, was named in 1859 after Denbighshire in Wales.

Haliburton County was developed in the 1860s by the London-based Canadian Land and Emigration Company, headed by Canadian-born writer Thomas Chandler Haliburton. Among the townships in the county with a Welsh connection are Cardiff, Glamorgan, Snowdon, and Monmouth. Bangor Township, in the north part of Hastings County, was named in 1859 after the Welsh city of Bangor, in Carnarvonshire (now part of Gwynedd).

The community of Carnarvon in Haliburton County and Carnarvon Township in Manitoulin County were both named in 1867, likely after Henry Howard Molyneux Herbert, Earl of Carnarvon (1831-1890), whose title came from Carnarvonshire and the place now identified on maps as Caernarfon, the site of the famous Carnarvon Castle. The Earl guided the adoption of the British North America Act in Westminster that year.

Swansea in the west of Toronto beyond High Park, was named in 1889 after the Welsh seaport of Swansea. The postmaster then was James Worthington. Incorporated as a village in 1925, Swansea was annexed in 1967 by the city of Toronto on the creation of the municipality of Metropolitan Toronto.

The community of Pontypool in Victoria County, 10 kms south of Lindsay, was named in 1853 by John Jennings, a native of Pontypool in Wales, which is the same distance northeast of Cardiff. Chepstow, in Bruce County was named by postal authorities in 1865 after local miller John Phelan had requested an office in honour of Irish patriot Robert Emmett, who was hanged in 1803 for treason. Phelan was outraged with Chepstow, because he knew only too well it was the home of the infamous Strongbow (1130-1176), the first British invader of Ireland.

The resort community of Bala in Muskoka District was named in 1872 by Thomas W Burgess in fond memory of the Bala area of Northwestern Wales.

In 1897 a Canadian Pacific Railway station called Wabigoon Tank, west of Dryden in northwestern Ontario, was renamed by Superintendent William Whyte (1843-1914) after the Welsh village of Dinorwic, which is 12 km south of Bangor.

When the Canadian Pacific was being built north from Tisdale to Nipawin, Sask. in 1922, Robert Wall, a native of Pontrilas, Wales suggested that name for a station, 20 km south of Nipawin. Pontrilas is on the border of Monmouthshire and Hertfordshire. The CP also had a loading platform at a place called Rhyl, 45 km west of Saskatoon, but the name, given for a seaport on the north coast of Wales, is no longer used.

Northwest of Edmonton is the community of Cardiff, which was named in 1907 after the leading city in Wales.

National Archives of Canada Notes

Following up on Carol White's letter in v1 n1 of this quarterly, the new reading room hours are: 8:30 am to 10 pm Mon to Fri, and 8 am to 6 pm weekends and statutory holidays. The Genealogy Reference Desk hours are 8.30 am to 5 pm Mon to Fri.

We sadly report the death in June of longtime genealogical advisor Janine Roy. After serving in the Genealogy Unit with care and courtesy for 23 years, Janine took a well deserved retirement in August 1994. However, poor health prevented her having the pleasures of a long retirement.

In a time of severe Federal cutbacks, the Genealogy and Personnel Records Section has been able to retain five positions in the Genealogy Unit, reporting to Carol White, the section chief. Supervisor of the unit is Lorraine St Louis-Harrison supported at the Genealogy Reference Desk (NAC's 3rd floor) by Mary Munk, Denise Ross, and Danny Somers. Bryce Jacques handles the correspondence.

Letters to the Genealogy Unit should be mailed to 395 Wellington St., Ottawa ON K1A 0N3. The desk telephone number is (613) 996-7458. Voice mail has been installed and staff try to get back ASAP to each caller during the day the call has been received.

Occupations

Education & Queries

Jack Moody

Knowing an ancestor's occupation can be useful in several ways when preparing your family history. It can help define which individuals with a given name are related to you as in earlier days some trades were restricted to a family; for example, our President's O'Regans from Cork were all stonemasons and the only stonemasons of that name in the area.

Even when the trade was not restricted and you know what your ancestor did, you can select the right person from a group of different trades or professions. In some cases it will help you know your ancestor better because of the education or training required to engage in that line of work or something about the relatives physique as a blacksmith is certain to be a brawny person or a jockey one of small build and weight. Certainly it will enhance your family history when you can quote an ancestor's occupation and describe how that work was done in those days.

Trades and professions which still exist today do not need definition except to describe changes in the methods used in earlier days; you will know what is meant by doctor, farmer, teacher, etc. However, there are terms which are no longer in use or whose definitions are not generally known. Some examples are:

ACKERMAN - an ox herder.

ALE DRAPER - innkeeper or publican.

ALMONER - giver of charity to the needy.

ALNAGER - sworn officer appointed to certify the measurement and quantity of woollen goods.

AMANUENSIS - secretary or stenographer.

ARTIFICER - soldier mechanic who does repairs.

BAL-MAIDEN - woman employed in mines in Cornwall in the dressing of tin and copper ore.

BADGER - a pedlar or dealer.

BARKER - leather tanner.

BARMASTER - arbitrator for disputes in the lead mining industry and keeper of the measuring dish used in mining of ore.

BEADLE - parish officer, particularly in connection with administering the Poor Law.

BELLMAN - forerunner of the postman in 18th century England. Collected mail in a locked bag before the mail coach arrived and blew a horn to announce its arrival. Customers paid for his service.

By mid 19th century he was replaced by road-side pillar (mail) boxes (also see CHARLEY).

BLUESTOCKING - female writer.

BONIFACE - innkeeper.

BOWYER - bow maker.

BRAZIER - one who works with brass.

BRICKBURNER - a brick maker.

BRIGHTSMITH - metal worker.

BUNTER - rag and bone man.

BURGOMASTER - mayor.

BUTTY - one who took contract work in a mine and hired labourers to do the work - also called a CHARTMASTER.

CARTWRIGHT - carriage repairer.

CASHMARIE - fish pedlar who transported fish from ports to inland points.

CHAISEMAKER - carriage maker.

CHANDLER - dealer or trader; one who makes or sells candles; grocery retailer.

CHAPMAN - dealer in smallwares.

Mbr #140 Bill Glover, Monrovia CA, after a fishing trip decided to chronicle some of the tombstones of the Cornish and Irish gold miners on Boot Hill. The depth of snow made it impossible to view most of the monuments. He recorded some visible stones, including this one: WH Werely/ Born Dec 20 1848 / Died Feb 9, 1890 / A Native of Ontario Canada. Bill hopes this item will be of assistance to someone. He sent a photo of the fenced-in white stone but the snow-reflected lettering is too faint for readability if printed. Thanks, Bill.

Book Reviews

Associate Editor Jim Lynn

An Irish Genealogical Source: Guide to Church Records. Published by the Ulster Historical Foundation, Balmoral Buildings, 12 College Square East, Belfast, BT1 6DD, on behalf of the Public Record Office of Northern Ireland. Hardback, xix+279 pages, ISBN 0-901905-59-3.

This is an exhaustive guide to Irish church records available in the Public Record Office of Northern Ireland (PRONI). PRONI retains records for churches in the six counties of Northern Ireland (Antrim, Armagh, Down, Fermanagh, Londonderry, and Tyrone) as well as the three counties of Ulster in the Republic (Cavan, Donegal and Monaghan) and for a very few other churches in the Republic.

The introduction describes how records have been kept by the Church of Ireland, Methodists, Presbyterians, Roman Catholics, Congregationalists, Non-subscribing Presbyterians, Baptists, Society of Friends and Moravians.

Records available include all those copied by or deposited with PRONI up to September, 1993. The PRONI reference code system is described and the code for each church is provided.

Records available cover primarily baptisms, marriages and deaths, but in some cases a wide range of other records such as vestry or session minutes, accounts, communicants lists, transfer certificates, etc. are available.

The precise dates for which records are available are described and the inevitable gaps in coverage are identified. Cases where

Tracing Your West Indian Ancestors: The PRO in Chancery Lane, London, has published this title as the 11th in the Readers' Guide series. The new book has numerous references to the people in the British West Indies, such as adventurers who planted sugar cane, slaves who came to toil identified records remain in the custody of a local church are noted as are relevant Church of Ireland records destroyed in the 1922 fire in Dublin.

Material is organized alphabetically, first by civil parish, then by denomination, and then by individual church. While it is desirable to know the civil parish in which you are interested, the book can easily be perused for a particular church if you know its name, but do not know where it is located.

Roman Catholic parishes often include parts of more than one civil parish and cross references are included where this is known. It is noted that the National Library in Dublin has microfilmed almost all pre-1880 Roman Catholic registers in Ireland whereas PRONI records are limited essentially to Ulster.

This is precisely the type of guide that researchers need to identify the availability and location of church records. The large print and generous spacing make the guide highly readable and invite the reader to browse simply out of general interest in such records.

NEW MEMBERS & INTERESTS

Membership

Robert Campbell

Most new members did not take advantage of listing emigrant ancestors information in the application form although the data is requested. This means a lost opportunity to let hundreds of thousands of other researchers around the world learn of your interests. Some of them may be looking into the same ancestral line and have information to share.

Anglo-Celtic Roots is indexed by several services. They publish indexes annually or more often. They are available in many repositories, including main public libraries, and have brought together researchers near and far. Many researchers find the indexes are excellent means of acquiring and sharing family history information.

Membership is based on the Calendar year which means dues for 1996 need be mailed in by 1 Jan 1996. A Membership Renewal Form for 1996 is enclosed for your convenience. If you have not previously given us emigrant ancestor data, please do it now. You may want to submit a Query for publication. Members are allowed six queries a year and those published are indexed by others for wider distribution.
