

British Isles Family History Society of Greater Ottawa

Best Anglo-Celtic Roots Article

If you are interested in reading one of these award-winning articles, check our Anglo-Celtic Roots archives. (Issues from recent year are available only to members.)

2021	Anne Renwick - Hunting and Gathering
2020	Bette Smith - Emily Charts a New Course
2019	Carol Annett - The Story on the Stone: Part II: Secrets of the Grave
2018	Lynne Willoughby - Surviving Passchendaele—William James Watson Willoughby
2017	Christine Jackson - The Queen's Coachman: Our Only Claim to Fame!
2016	Terry Findlay - The Cutler with a Social Conscience: Joseph Banks Durham, 1816–1899
2015	Christine Jackson - My Ancestors Were All Ag-Labs – Or Were They
2014	Barbara Tose - Travels With My Aunt: Adventures in Europe 1914
2013	Christine Jackson - The Cowley Family Saga
2012	Carolyn Emblem - Eleanor, Ellen and Frances
2011	Patricia McGregor - A Mother for Albert Edward Weir
2010	Heather Boucher Ashe - The Irish Registry of Deeds for Genealogists
2009	Carol Annett - The Luck of the Scots
2008	Carol Annett - Remembering Brockville's Scottish Orphans
2007	Robert J. Brown - Baa-Baa Black Sheep: Thinking Outside the Fold
2006	Robert Watt - Watts and Related Families in Dunfermline, Fifeshire, 1750-1914
2005	Bonnie Ostler - John Rumble: Poor, Illegitimate, Orphaned Child, Forgotten Man
2004	Terry Findley - An Irish Fling: Delightful Discoveries! Part 1
2003	John Hay - Searching Scottish Family History from Canada
2002	James H. Lynn - The Scots-Irish

2001 John D. Reid - The National Burial Index for England and Wales

