

Diahna Southard has spent 16 years in the genetic genealogy industry. Besides lecturing world-wide about genetic genealogy, she hosts the website Your DNA Guide, which offers individuals and families help with interpreting their genetic results in the context of their genealogical information. She is also a featured author for Family Tree Magazine, a regular contributor to Lisa Louise Cooke's Genealogy Gems website, and a recurring writer in Your Genealogy Today and the National Genealogical Society's magazines. She has a passion for genetic genealogy, a genuine love for people, and a gift for making the technical understandable.
